NEGRO LEADERSHIP AND WHAT IT MEANS

I would not exchange two five-cent cigars—even though not a smoker—for all the colored or Negro political leaders, or rather misleaders, of our time. The fraternity is heartless, crafty and corrupt. They exist for themselves only, and give no honest thought to the future, or the condition of the people, except to exploit said condition to their political benefit.

Among the whites, we have a few political charlatans and crooks, but that race can well afford, under the circumstances, to tolerate them, because they are surrounded and circumvented by statesmen and race patriots who are ever vigilant and on guard in protecting the rights of their people. Among us Negroes, there is no relief from such a class, because they monopolize our politics and obstruct our outlook. The only tempering hope is religion, and that is like dry bones—we have to wait a long while for them to come together in the Valley.

To use our present political leaders there must be a conversion and reformation in head and heart. I believe it to be impossible, with the inviting system of graft; therefore, I suggest that leadership be assumed by our uncorrupted youth, with a program clear, positive and determined, counting well the cost of opposition and persecution, which generally leads to the Bastille and the guillotine.—Philosophy and Opinions of Marcus Garvey, Vol. II.

THE SINS OF THE FATHERS

There is no sense in hate; it comes back to you; therefore, make your history so laudable, magnificent and untarnished that another generation will not seek to repay your seed for the sins inflicted upon their fathers. The bones of injustice have a peculiar way of rising from the tombs to plague and mock the iniquitous.—Philosophy and Opinions of Marcus Garvey, Vol. II.

BROTHERLY LOVE, CHARITY AND GOD

The unreasonable of the white race prate about the inferiority of the Negro. They tell us historically, biologically, ethnologically, economically, politically and generally that the black man is inferior, incompetent and by himself unable to contribute much to human progress; yet, when a black man shows himself determined to prove the race's ability, they grab hold of him, harass him, make a monkey out of him, and, if he persists, they either club him to death by trickery, sinister designs, or incriminate him and send him to prison.

If he rises up in the West Indies, they so environ him that he is bound to die of starvation; if he rises up in America, they employ others of his race to discredit him, and, if that is difficult, frame him and send him to prison for imaginary crime. If he rises up in Africa, he is undermined and murdered or exiled from his native hearth. And still the white man boasts of his superiority through brute force of shot, gas and shell.

Give the Negro fifty years of unhampered or unmolested freedom of action, and in less than that time he will prove to the world that he is the greatest genius Nature ever fashioned and the most liberal and charitable of God's creatures. Give the Negro a chance and he will teach the white man the way to Justice, Charity, Brotherly Love and God.—Philosophy and Opinions of Marcus Garvey, Vol. II.

Garvey's Dream of Belting the World with Universities for the Training of Negro Youth Begins to Materialize

Hon. Marcus Garvey's dream of a university in connection with the Universal Negro Improvement Association came one step nearer realization when a large historic school property, formerly the Smallwood-Corey Industrial Institute at Claremont, Virginia, passed into the hands of the organization. The property consists of 66 acres of valuable Surry County land on the historic James River, with nearly one mile of navigable river frontage containing the wharf at which the second cargo of Negro slaves landed in 1622. There are nine buildings, the main building being worth over $100,000.00

The statement, made before a notable audience, created a sensation at the time, as all statements of so starting a nature always do. It is a fact worth while considering at this time, when the white races have about decided among themselves that they are "the superior race," with Divine right to subjugate all other races because, they assume, they are inferior races. The English speaking peoples lead in proclaiming and seeking to make effective this heresy of race superiority and the right of the alleged superior to subjugate and rule that alleged inferior without his consent.

But it is no new thing in the history of mankind for one race to claim superiority because at the time it has the supremacy in intellectual development, in war or in the pursuits of peace. They are a little section of Japan and are carefully watched over by the home government. They do not long remain laborers. Capital is found for them, and hefore long they are trunning their own farms and their own businges enterprises. Those of Brazil who are seeking docile and efficient laborers may find that they have introduced very effective competitors."

If the surplus populations of Italy, Germany and Portugal can become employers: in Erazil, why can't the Japanese? They are a thrifty, hard-working, silent people who are leading the yellow race, and many yet give their pale-faced brothers a big surprise not only in industrial competition, but in world leadership.

A colony is capitally watched over by the home government, warns Mr. Nortop. And why should it be otherwise? One Englishman traveling in any part of the world is carefully looked after. One white American, killed with impunity, can cause the whole country to go to war. Conciudadanos de mi raza:

Aprovecho esta oportunidad para expresaros mis sentimientos sobre la libertad—la libertad individual, la libertad de nuestra raza.

El clamor y anhelo por libertad es sagrado y justificable en todas partes. Lo es para el anglo-sajón, para el teutónico y para el anglo-americano precede a todas las religiones y ahora aparecen el irlndés, el judio, el egipcio, el indu y el negro reclamando su parte así como tambien su derecho a ser libres.

The comment from beginning to end racial, or matters that affect us in general. There is more knowledge and instruction to the square inch in The Negro World than in any other race paper to the square mile. We should not consider one dollar ($1.00) per copy an exorbitant price to pay for this instructive and inspiring newspaper. Negroes who read it for the inspiration alone cannot remain dormant or stagnant in their activities; the response is automatic.

Like the rays of the sun reach mil-lions of people, The Negro World reaches millions of readers. Europe Asia, South and Central America Africa and the islands of the sea have persons who are active in the promulgation and distribution of our cele-brated journal. To the Editor of The Negro World: ease allow me space in your valu able paper to say a few words concerning this great movement which is our only hope and upon which hangs the redemption of our Fatherland and emancipation of the Negro race. In all parts of the world we find the Negro hemmed in on every side by the white race. He faces discrimination, segregation, and is practically hated those for whom he fought on the battlefields of Europe. Just after the war we heard so much said about self-determination for small 'nations and people. We expected that the Negro was included among those people, but what do we find at present? . Instead of self-determination, the Negroes are facing race extermination.

Fellow-men of the Negro race, I be-seech you in the name of God, in the hope of a free and redeemed Africa let us awake from our slumber and stand behind the Universal Negro Improvement Association as a mighty phalanx. Let us hold up the hands of our great leader, the Hon. Marcus Garvey. Let us remember that he has kindled in our hearts the spirit of nationhood, the spirit of manliness the spirit that enables us today to unite ourselves together with a fixed determination to demand our God-given lands and a place in the sun.

Should we fail to observe the signs of times; should we fail to support the great movement and our imprisoned leader, who is suffering for our liberation, then in a few years hence this race of ours will be swept off the map by the strong hand of our oppressors.

Let us, therefore, as New Negroes rally to the support of the U. N. I. A Let us keep the red, the black and the green flying, and by so doing we shall hasten the day of the redemption of Ethiopia, the land of our fathers.

WILLIAM F. CLARKE. Cristobal, Canal Zone.

Only a Superior Being Can Lead the Race To the Editor of The Negro World:

I believe before the Honorable Marcus Garvey came upon the scene, intelligent men of both the white and black races used to wonder within themselves who would step out to save the Negro race. If we turn our eyes and look back down through the ages we will see where those who dared race, or more broadly, to save humanity, have either been nailed to a cross, thrown into a lion's den or a flery furnace; head chopped off upon scaffold, exiled or thrown into prison. Yet, though those saviours as we may call them have undergone such terrible suffering, and although we read daily of the cruel tortures they suffered, still there is always one ready to die the "sweet death" so that suffering humanity might be saved. It is written, "He that looseth his life for My, sake shall find it." Today the statesmen of every nation are devising every possible way and means by which they may be able to give their best to their own group. Those mem-bers of the Negro race who are tracing events from day to day and seeing the unpreparedness of our race the world over and the unfortunate position in which we find ourselves know that any race or people which fails at this time to organize and protect its interest must either die the death of ignorance or starvation. Looking through our mind's eye we must come to the conclusion that comeone must step out and save the Negro race. But, fortunately, just as the thoughts of those who had began to wonder, there came upon the scene the saviour, Marcus Garvey. Just as it took a superior being than man to save humanity from eternal destruction so it takes the superior of the ordinary Negro to save the race from eternal, everlasting slavery.

And that man is Marcus Garvey,

BRITAIN CALLS DOMINIONS FOR

Greater Unity, the Aim, but Dominion's Demand More Independence — Outcome of West Indian Conference

> By JOSEPH GRIGG In New York Sun

LONDON, July 6 .- For Great Britain herself, for the nations that comprise the British Empire, the Imperial Con ference to be convened here in Oc tober will be of far greater importance than any which has been held sinc 1907, when the Conference of Colo nial Prime Ministers adopted a resolulion declaring it was advisable tha an imperial parley should be held every four years. The next meeting was convened in 1911, but owing to the war there was no reassembly until 1921, although the Dominion Prime Ministers attended various war con ferences, and met at the Peace Con ference in Paris in 1919.

Owing to special circumstances, the Imperial Conference was summoned again in 1923, so if the four year interval were observed in would not meet again until 1927. But the Imperial Government desires a meeting this year, largely because some general agreement is sought on the question of the Locarno treaty, which commits Great Britain, if not the Dominions, to war in certain contingencies. Of the Dominion statesmen who at tended the 1923 "round table" only S. M. Bruce, Australian Prime Ministe still remains in the saddle. General Hertzog has supplanted General Smuts in South Africa, Mackenzie King has taken the place of Meighen in Canada. representative, instead of Mr. Massey who died last year.

The agenda will be essentially political, though certain economic issues will be of only slightly less signifi cance.

World at Large Looks On

. The world at large will be onlooker at this London conference, but much that will be done will be of very live interest to the nations unrepresented For as Leopold Amery, Colonial Secre tary, said when addressing the delegates at the conclusion of the British West Indies parley just held there, the great problem ahead of the empire is to bring about "effective unity of action toward the outside world, and practical and effective co-operation among ourselves."

This aim at greater unity will not develop anything, however, in the nature of "direct legal legislative federation" at the forthcoming confer-ence over which the Locarno treaty casts a heavy shadow. Under that treaty Britain has a frontier on the Continent. But it is not yet an empire frontier. Canada, the oldest Domin ion, who will play, as all statesmen recognize, a very important role in the imperial conference, reposes in her Parliament the right to take a decision for or against war. Australia, on the other hand, reposes in her government the taking of such a decision. The problem of unity calls for agreement among the dominions themselves as much as between the dominions and the imperial government in London. The recently concluded West Indian conference was held largely because of the desire of the mother country to bring into closer relationship with London the eight principal British possessions in that part of the world where special trade surveys in recent months have shown that the United States, because of its contiguity and the energy and alacrity of American business interests, has gone far to esblish a trade regemony in this part of the British Empire.

Some imperialists here undoubtedly prefer to see a more closely welded empire, one responding to "direct legal egislative federation," but no responsible statesman in Britain believes fo a moment that unity of action and purpose is to be achieved by any such methods. The less that Whitehall dictates the more certain it is that the big problems facing the empire will be constructively and amicably re-

The view is very generally accepted that Canada's loyalty to the empire ill not be in question so long as she feels she has the right to interpret her relationship towards it. But General applause extended as she made her Herizog, the South African Prime first appearance and her final bow. Minister, goes as far as to insist that the dominions are self-governing States bound to Great Britain only by the link of a common king.

Yankee Trade Drive Frets Before the West Indian delegation had left London the British Colonial Secretary could not deny himself the opportunity to do some spread-eagling. American penetration of the West Indies so much in the minds of the delegates, with all the recent trade reports dwelling on the potential effacts of the intensive Yankee trade drive in these British possessions, Amery took the occasion to give a reassuring and prophetic bird's-eye of the empire's future prospects. He said:

"Vast as the resources of America are, they shrink into insignificance compared with the inherited resources of the British Empire. I have no hes-itation in saying that the time will come when America will look on the amazing development and prosperity of the empire in much the same way as we look upon American prosperity today."

How far the impending imperia conference will contribute to the con-summation of the Colonial Secretary's prophetic vision remains a matter of onjecture.

Throngs Crowd Sesqui Witnessing Negro Pageant

PHILADELPHIA. -- The mammoth auditorium at the Sesqui-Centennial was crowded by the attendance of over fifteen thousand spectators who witnessed "Loyalty's Gift" on Monday evening, July 12. It was a feature of not alone the Negro Activities, but proved to be the stellar exhibition thus far of any event ever held in the Auditorium. From the opening scene colorful and stately until Grinnell's wonderful band played the "Star-Spangled Banner" the audience was thrilled with the illumination, costume action and song presented. Mrs. Dora Cole Norman, directing the pageant and also playing the part of "Loyalty" in the exhibition, deserved the great Marian Anderson, depicting achievement in song, held her hearers enraptured. The wide range of voice, the varied types of phrasing and interpretation, the fullness of tone included the artistic rendition of her numbers. The cast, composed of unprofessional lovers of drama and song, made an impression in their choruses that will go down in the history of such events as the most wonderful rendition yet made. They like the crowd attending, broke all records.
