Garvey In Brilliant Albert Hall Address States Case Uncompromisingly For Negro

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow-Citizens of the British Empire:

I mm here this evening as the President-General of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, an organization of 11,000,000 Negroes in Africa, the United States of America, South America, Central America, Canada and the West Indies, to present to you the claim of our race upon your civilization.

Institution of Slavery

For more than 500 years you assumed a leadership over us, much against our will, the result of which took us into slavery, and we labored as such slaves for 250 years in the country now known as the United States of America, and for 230 years in the countries known as the West Indies—British, Spanish and French. I can well remember when you, the English, entered upon the slave traffic.

John Hawkins, whom you afterward elevated to knighthood, in seeking a charter to empower him to take slaves from Africa, from Elizabeth, then Queen of England, said that he wanted this charter to empower him and others to take the slaves from Africa for the purpose of civilizing and Christianizing them. Under a pretense of Christianizing and civilizing them, the Queen signed the charter. That traffic removed millions of black men, women and children from the West Coast of Africa to your Dominions and Colonies in the West Indies and in America.

what we want done at the present time to prevent a recurrence of what happened to us hundreds of years ago.

Presenting the Case for the Negro

In presenting this case I want to do so with the best of feeling toward all concerned. I came to England under instructions from those millions of people to approach you through your government, through public opinion, through your King and through the crowned heads and the governments of Europe, especially those that have dominions at the present time in Africa. England, France, Italy, Spain, Belgium, Portugal, have assumed within the last fifty vears the right politically to parcel out the land of our fathers without anybody saying a word to us. At the Versailles Conference, at the League of Nations, the representatives of those governments created certain mandates without asking us-nearly 300,000,000 people-one word about it. We are here to let not only we, the blacks of the world, should raise the cry of Africa for the Africans? (Applause.)

Hindering Tactics

Somebody with an evil mind has placed a wrong interpretation upon our motives and upon my expressions. They have tried to make me all kinds of things. They tried to make me a Socialist and a Bolshevist, and when they, found out that I was neither they said I was a crook. (Laughter.) And they sent me to prison as a favor (they said) to the colored people; and after they kept me in prison for two years and ten months and found it was not a pleasure but a grave displeasure they found an excuse to commute my sentence, and then they deported me from America. I thought of coming from America at the request of my organization to speak to the English people about whom I read so much and about whom I heard so much for their liberal attitude towards all men; I thought I would have a fair hearing in England to present a clear case not only for the organization I represent but for the Negroes of the world, and to clear my character. The first thing they said about me when I arrived here was that I was a desperate crook-and the person who wrote that about me never saw me, knew nothing about me, had had no dealings with me, but he and others were willing to state a case against me so as to prejudice the success of this meeting, without investigating.

An Empty Envelope

Do you know what I went to prison for? They said that some unknown employee of mine, because I was President of the Black Star Line, a steamship corporation, and an auxiliary of the organization that I represent now, posted a letter to somebody; in the evidence an envelope was presented to the witness which he identified as addressed to him, but he could not identify any letter contained in the envelope, and the prosecuting attorney presented it in evidence as a fair assumption that the envelope bore mailed matter from the Black Star Line, of which I was President, and because of that-an cmpty envelope—I was sent to prison in America for five years. (Cries of "Shame!") And you call me a criminal for that; and the newspapers in England have published only that evil side of it without seeing the good that the organization which I represent has done in its fourteen years of existence.

As I have said, for 250 years we struggled in America under the burden and the rigors of slavery. We were brutalized; we were maimed; we were killed; we were ravaged in every way. Then in America a man sprang up by the name of Abraham Lincoln, and in 1865 he liberated the American Negro slaves. A woman by the name of Victoria the Good, the Queen of England, in 1838 emancipated the West Indian Negroes. Tonight we have on the platform here native sons of Africa, descendants of the slaves in the Western World, Negroes of America and Negroes from the West Indies. We have come to tell you how we feel about it and Europe but the world know that the new Negro is not going to be railroaded into slavery, into becoming a peon, into becoming a serf, as was so easily done in the centuries gone by. (Applause.)

Africa for the Africans

We are men; we have souls, we have passions, we have feelings, we have hopes, we have desires, like any other race in the world. (Applause.) The cry is raised all over the world today of Canada for the Canadians, of America for the Americans, of England for the English, of France for the French, of Germany for the Germans—do you think it unreasonable that
