Time Is Now Ripe For a Showdown

We have been saying in these columns time and time again that the call is not for the Negro in the field. The amateur final was staged at Madison Square Garden last Monday evening. We felt sure there would have been some Race boys participating therein, but to our great surprise there was not a single one. What happened to them is the great question, as they played an important part in the semi-finals. There has been tales told that a certain colored lad, who was going to fight in the amateur final, was told by the promoter to wait until he was called to fight at seven-thirty o'clock; when he arrived at that time, he was again told that he should wait until seven and, and that he was expected to wait until eight. So this boy, who was somewhat feared by the white boys in his class, was left out entirely. We are made to understand that this is not the only case where our boys have been denied their chance to prove themselves.

We are forced to ask the question: "What is it that causes the promoters to handicap these boys?" It surely must be a case of Race. There could not possibly be any other cause, as colored boys have always given the best in most any and everything they enter into. The crowd has always been pleased with their work in the ring, especially so when there were no draw-bouts in the arrangement. Not being allowed to fight, the Negro plenty of trouble in the professional and army rings, they have carried the act of discrimination in the amateur ranks. What should the Negro do? Has not these conditions attracted the attention of our local leaders, or have we not? It would seem that someone would be able enough to investigate conditions in the boxing world, as there are so many of our boys that play their trade as milt fighters, thereby making it possible for them to take out a living. Something had better be done and done fast or else the results of such boycotting will get too far under the skins of those affected, that it will be impossible to make it clear to them that there is any hope. One way or the other. As we understand it, Race Leadership calls for the desired amount of representation given to all classes of the race regardless of their activity, as long as it is understood that they are denied rights such as are given to others. Someone should call for a showdown in their behalf. Preachers, politicians, or what have you, should take the outward part and perform an honorable deed. Some one of the boys should be a member of a congregation or surely some one of them has helped some poor negro in his need. As we do not mean anything? Is it not worth the consideration in a representative way, which we say should be done, as there is nothing to be done, each and everyone of the boys should call upon "Divine Light" and let the leader in their district, and urge them to act in their behalf, as it is possible that these distinguished characters do not know of their plight.

Like most artists with determination to go to the top, Stanleigh has his hobby. It's music, and the piano that is it. I never knew him until he joined me as a principal in "Harlem". He was assigned to play our jazz and swing music in that memorable "Harlem" house rent party scene. He almost had to be dragged to the piano. He is not a talkative man and did not even talk to me until he was in the room. He is a very quiet man, and he is a very good pianist.

"Exile," New Race Film, To Be Released Soon

The race's newest talking picture will be released soon with an all Negro cast, by Oscar Micheaux, this time of Negro theatricals. "Exile" is the name of the picture, and soon we can go to our favorite theatre and see whether we like it or not. Several new characters will be in this production, that is so far as the Micheaux group is concerned. Stanleigh Morris is the star of the picture and is said to live up to all expectations and then some. He is not new to the stage or screen as those who have seen "The Green Pastures" and "Harlem" will note that this young man can render good account of himself and that the screen is destined to see more of him as the movie lovers are certain to take a liking to him. He is a very good actor and a very good pianist.
